7:30 p.m.: Meet Nathaniel Hawthorne with educator Paul Riopelle, who will present dramatic readings from The House of the Seven Gables, The Scarlet Letter, Young Goodman Brown, and Dr. Heidegger’s Experiment. His portrayal of Hawthorne offers glimpses of his life in Salem, his dark ancestral history, his marriage and famous friendships.

Day 2: Friday, May 18; 6:30 p.m.

Sophia Peabody Hawthorne: Citizen of the World

Sophia Peabody Hawthorne moved beyond her 19th century New England roots to become an intrepid traveler and an expatriate. Her capacity to appreciate foreign cultures and her decision to leave her native land forever are topics that raise a question with contemporary relevance: What exactly does it mean to be an American?

This lecture will be offered by, Patricia Dunlavy Valenti, author of two-volume biography, Sophia Peabody Hawthorne, A Life, Vols. 1 & 2. This event is free for registered educators and members of The House of the Seven Gables. The cost is $10.00 for nonmembers. Visit www.7gables.org to RSVP or contact dmarshall@7gables.org, or call 978-744-0991 ext. 101.
